Totals		500	423	401		72	39	3	937

The foregoing statistics show the condition of the schools for the past four years. By comparing these statistics with those of other villages, it may be seen that Wadsworth stands well among the first.

The enrollment in the High School for the four years was 43, 56, 61 and 63, respectively, which shows a steady growth. The course of study, as now arranged, is such that pupils completing it are admitted to the best colleges of the State without examination.

In accordance with the law, Hygienic Physiology has been added to the studies in the lower grades. It is taught orally, and with special reference to the effects of alcohol and other narcotics upon the system.

Drawing has been added to the course of study, and a special teacher of writing and drawing has been engaged for the coming year. Drawing as a school study is not designed to make finished artists; but it trains the eye to see with accuracy, and increases the power of the mind by cultivating the sense of form. It also trains the hand to do, and is conducive to originality of thought and expression.

For the benefit of those who desire to continue their studies in the school after graduating, an elective year has been added to the course of study.

It is conceded that the development of a strong moral character is paramount in an education. Failure in this particular means failure in life. In the accomplishment of this end there is nothing within the pale of the school so powerful as the personal influence of a warm-hearted, upright, zealous and skilled teacher.

The promotion of pupils does not depend entirely upon the two stated examinations held each year. A written review is given each month in the respective branches, which reviews, together with the examination, form the basis of promotion. Nor are these the only factors that are considered. Honest effort and the good of the pupil are taken into consideration.

By charging a small admittance to the public exercises of the High School, and investing the net proceeds of the same in books, our library has been increased to over 250 volumes. From the same source a working library of thirty volumes of instructive and interesting books has been obtained for the use of the pupils of the two highest grammar grades.

I express my sincere acknowledgements to the Board of Education, to the teachers, and to the parents and friends for their courteous, co-operation and good-will. Respectfully submitted,

WADSWORTH, O., June 23, '92.

F. M. PLANK, Superintendent.

Rules and Regulations.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

1. The regular meetings of the Board shall be on the first and third Monday evening of each month.

2. There shall be the following Standing Committees appointed by the President, unless otherwise provided, immediately upon the organization of the Board, after the election each year: 1st, Buildings, Grounds and Repairs, two members; 2d, Fuel and Supplies, two members; 3d, Finance, two members.

3. At all meetings, as soon as a quorum is present, the President shall call the meeting to order, and proceed with business as follows: 1st, Reading the minutes; 2d, Reports from Committees or Superintendent; 3d, Accounts; 4th, Unfinished Business; 5th, New or Miscellaneous Business.

4. For the general transaction of business the ordinary Parliamentary Rules shall be observed by all the members.

5. The President shall have a vote upon all questions, and whenever the vote shall be a tie, the motion pending shall be considered as lost.

SCHOOL HOURS.

6. The hours of daily sessions shall be from 9 to 12 a. m. and from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m.

SCHOOL BUILDING AND PREMISES.

7. No Public School Building or premises shall be rented or permitted to be occupied or used for any other purpose whatever than for Public Schools, except by special consent of the Board.

TEXT BOOKS.

8. The studies prescribed and the text books used, shall be such only as may be prescribed by the Board of Education. Each scholar shall be provided with the required books, after due notice to the parents, or be denied the privilege of attendance.

SUPERINTENDENT.

9. It shall be the duty of the Superintendent to make all assignments and promotions; to give directions concerning term and other examinations; to arrange the studies of each grade; to report all cases of neglect in discipline, in teaching, or in care of property. He shall see that all reports required of teachers are correctly prepared, and report to the Board the condition of the schools at the end of each month, term and year. He shall appoint and keep at least one hour per day for office work, outside the regular hours of school.

10. He shall attend carefully to the preservation of the school property, frequently inspect the same, and report its condition to the Board; recommending such changes from time to time as will, in his opinion, tend to the improvement of the schools, as also to its general management; prescribe rules for the daily recitations, and designate the time to be occupied for each exercise. Whatever regulations in reference to any or all of these subjects are made by him, to be binding upon all teachers employed.

11. He shall appoint stated meetings of the teachers, for the purpose of instructing them in their respective duties, and for mutual consultation upon matters connected with the prosperity of the schools. He shall have general power in regard to instruction and discipline, except as he may be limited by these Rules or the action of the Board of Education.

TEACHERS.

12. Teachers to know and observe the Regulations.—It shall be the duty of the teachers to make themselves familiar with all the School Regulations, and to co-operate with the Board in such measures as will best secure their observance. A faithful compliance with these rules on the part of teachers, shall be one of the conditions of their engagement and retention.

13. A copy of the Regulations to be kept in each School-room.—Each teacher is required to have a copy of the Regulations at all times in his or her school-room, and to read to the scholars, at least once each term, so much of the same as will give them a just understanding of the rules by which they are to be governed.

14. To have care of school-rooms.—Teachers shall have the immediate care of their respective school-rooms, and be held responsible for the preservation of all furniture and apparatus thereto belonging. They shall also take special pains to secure good order and neatness in their school-rooms, in the halls, and about the school premises.

15. Warming and ventilating.—Teachers shall pay careful attention to the warming and ventilating of their school-rooms. Should it be necessary to lower the windows from the top, special care should be taken that children be not allowed to sit in currents of cold air. The teachers shall in all cases see that a proper supply of fresh air is admitted to the room. Temperature should be about 68° Fahr.

16. Teachers' meetings.—Teachers shall attend all regular and special meetings called by the Superintendent, and no excuse for absence shall be allowed other than such as would cause absence from a regular session of the schools.

17. Teachers to be punctual and to report deviations.—Teachers shall be in attendance at their respective school-rooms, and open the same for the reception of pupils, at least thirty minutes before the opening of school. They shall dismiss their schools promptly at the appointed time, but delinquent or disorderly pupils may be detained a reasonable time after the close of school, not to exceed one-half hour at noon, nor one hour after the close of the schools in the afternoon; during which time pupils so detained shall be subject to the same rules, discipline, and control of the teachers as during regular school hours. Teachers shall also invariably report their own tardiness, dismissal, absence, or other irregularities, in their report to the Clerk, considering themselves tardy if not in their rooms at the hour above named.

18. Dismissing school.—No teacher shall dismiss school earlier than the regular hour, or for a part of a day, except under the direction of the Superintendent.

19. Moral instruction.—It shall be the duty of the first importance on the part of teachers to exercise constant supervision and care over the general conduct of their scholars; and they are especially enjoined to avail themselves of every opportunity to inculcate the observance of correct manners, habits and principles.

SCHOLARS.

20. None to be admitted under legal age.—In case of doubt as to the age of any applicant, the teacher may require a written certificate from the parent or guardian.

21. Contagious diseases.—No scholar affected with any contagious or infectious disease, or directly exposed to the same, shall be allowed to attend the public schools.

22. Non-residents to pay tuition.—Non-resident pupils shall be required to pay in advance the following rates of tuition: High School, 40 cents per week; Grammar School, $33\frac{1}{3}$ cents per week; Primary Grade, 25 cents per week. All are non-residents whose real home is not within the limits of the district described and known as Wadsworth School District.

23. Duties of scholars.—Every scholar is required to attend school punctually and regularly; to conform to all the rules of the school; to obey all the directions of the teacher; to observe good order and propriety of deportment; to be diligent in study, respectful to teachers, and kind and obliging to schoolmates; to refrain entirely from the use of profane or improper language; to be clean and neat in person and attire, and to refrain entirely from the use of tobacco in any form. All are required to walk up and down the stairs and through the halls in a quiet and orderly manner; to refrain from scuffling, and all rude and boisterous conduct, in any part of the building, at all times.

24. Absence and tardiness.—Each morning and afternoon session it shall be the duty of teachers to notify, without exception, the parents or guardians of every absent scholar, and of every one tardy without excuse.

25. Excuses for tardiness.—The only excuse offered for tardiness or absence accepted by the teacher shall be for sickness, or some urgent cause, rendering punctuality impossible or extremely inconvenient. When excuses are considered insufficient, the teacher shall mark on the record, "not accepted," and receive the pupil subject to the following rule:

26. Suspension for unnecessary absence.—Pupils absent more than three half days, or tardy more than three times, or absent and tardy together more than three times in any four consecutive weeks, without excuse satisfactory to the teacher, or for cause other than those specified in the preceding rule, unless sufficient guarantees for future regularity are given, may be reported by teachers to the Superintendent, with a recommendation that they be suspended from school till the commencement of the next term, and the Board shall have power to carry out such recommendation. But no teachers shall thus report any pupil until they have given to parents due notice of the delinquencies of their children, and employed all other appropriate means to secure regularity.

27. Absentees from examination.—Any pupil who shall absent himself from any regular examination of the school, and shall fail to render sufficient excuse for such absence, may be suspended from the school, and not be allowed to return without permission from the Superintendent.

28. Dismissals, leave of absence.—No scholar shall be dismissed before the close of school hours, except at the written request of the parent or guardian. All such requests, however, shall be discouraged by the teacher as much as possible; and if he or she has reason to suppose that the request is made for reasons insufficient to warrant the interruption of the pupil's studies and recitations, the request shall be refused.

29. Regular leave of absence.—Application for regular leave of absence or dismissals must be made to the Board, who may grant such requests, provided they do not seriously interfere with the regular course of study.

30.—Suspension for misdemeanors.—Scholars guilty of the above or other irregularities, and habitually neglectful of their studies, and of the rules of the school, and whose example and general conduct are injurious to the school, may be required to report themselves to the Superintendent for advice, admonition, reprimand, or suspension, who, at his discretion, may suspend, or report to the Board for such action as they may think proper. Provided that no pupil shall be suspended for a longer time than may be necessary to convene the Board of Education.

31. Damages to school property.—Any scholar who by accident shall break or injure any school property, will be required to make the same as good as it originally was; but any pupil who shall willfully break or injure any school property, or who shall deface any desk, wall, outbuilding, fence, or anything appertaining to the building, by writing, drawing, cutting, or otherwise marking thereon, shall be summarily expelled from school, and be liable to prosecution.

32. Scholars to leave the school premises—Scholars shall not be allowed to assemble about the school premises at unseasonable hours before the commencement of school, nor remain after the dismissal of the same.

33. Scholars not permitted to visit other schools.—Scholars attending one school will not be allowed to visit another without permission.

JANITOR.

34. The Janitor, under the direction of the Superintendent, shall have a general supervision of the grounds, buildings, fences, sidewalks, out-houses, closets, and appurtenances of the public schools, and shall be held responsible for any want of care, attention, neatness, or cleanliness, on or about sidewalks, out-houses, or closets. It is expected that the Janitor, by direction of the Superintendent, will see to the making of all necessary fires, and prepare the rooms by sweeping and dusting seats and desks in proper manner and in due time for occupation. He shall give special attention to the practice of economy in the use of fuel, and be careful to prevent the wasting of coal with the ashes to be removed. He shall be governed in the regulation of the heat and ventilation and general and particular conducting of the furnaces according to the rules prescribed by the builder of the furnaces and their appurtenances, relating to the proper heating and ventilation of the building. He shall use diligence and precaution to save the buildings from exposure to fire. He shall be required to see that all gates, doors, and windows are closed at night, and to make such ordinary and requisite repairs as do not require the skill of a mechanic, and be generally employed as circumstances may require in promoting the interests connected with the schools. He shall ring the bell as often as the schools may require.
